PENNIES FOR CHARITY - 2008

New Yorkers want and deserve to know how their charitable donations are being used. They expect that their hard-earned dollars will actually make a difference. As the economy weakens and donors are more selective in their giving, transparency becomes even more critical.

Pennies for Charity, New York Attorney General Andrew M. Cuomo's report of telemarketing campaigns in New York, shows donors how much of their contributions made in response to telemarketers' solicitations are actually retained by the charity. It is intended as a tool to assist donors as they decide which charities to support. It can also be used by charitable organizations to evaluate a professional fundraiser's performance.

This report is based on financial reports filed by professional fundraisers for telemarketing campaigns conducted during 2007.

FINDINGS

A total of $178.7 million was raised on behalf of 442 charities in 2007 in the 553 telemarketing campaigns covered in this report. This amount includes funds raised in New York and other states by telemarketers registered to solicit charitable contributions in New York.

Key findings include:

- In nearly 80 percent, or 436 of the 553 campaigns, the charities kept less than 50 percent of the funds raised.
- In nearly half, or 271 of the 553 campaigns, the charities received less than 30 percent of the funds raised.
- In 51 of the 553 campaigns reflected in the report, charities actually lost money.
- In only 45 of the 553 campaigns did the charity retain at least 65 percent of the money raised, the amount deemed acceptable under the Better Business Bureau's standards for charitable organizations.

- In total, 60.54 percent, or $108.2 million, of the funds raised by telemarketers in 2007 was paid to the fundraisers for fees and/or used to cover the costs of conducting the campaigns. By comparison, charities retained 39.46 percent, or $70.5 million, of the total funds raised in the campaigns.

The following table shows the distribution of the funds raised in the 553 telemarketing campaigns in 2007, arranged according to percentage of funds retained by the charity.

* In one telemarketing campaign, the net amount received by the charity exceeded 100% of the gross amount raised from the campaign. In that campaign, the contract between the professional fund raiser and the charity guaranteed to the charity a minimum payment that ultimately exceeded the gross amount contributed.

 In 51 telemarketing campaigns, the campaign apparently resulted in a loss to the charity. This can occur when the fundraising contract does not guarantee the charity a specific amount or specific percentage of the gross receipts or when the contract does not hold the charity harmless for expenses/fees that exceed the gross amount contributed.

HOW THIS REPORT WAS PREPARED

The data in this report was obtained from financial reports filed with the Attorney General's Charities Bureau by professional fundraisers that conducted telemarketing campaigns on behalf of charitable organizations during 2007.¹ The filings are either closing reports submitted after completion of a telemarketing campaign or interim reports submitted annually for campaigns conducted for a period longer than one year.² Each filed report is signed by both the professional fundraiser and the contracting charitable organization. All of the charities listed in the report conducted telemarketing fundraising campaigns in New York State.³ The figures reported reflect the total amount of money solicited and are not limited to New Yorkers' contributions.

The report consists of seven tables. Table 1 lists the charitable organizations in alphabetical order, the professional fundraisers that conducted each organization's telemarketing campaign, the geographical location of each soliciting charity, whether the filing is an interim or closing report, the total amount raised in each campaign, the amount each charity retained, the amount of uncollected pledges and the percentage of the total raised that each charity retained.

Tables 2 through 4 contain the same information as Table 1, but are organized differently. Table 2 lists the professional fundraisers first, in alphabetical order. Table 3 arranges the information in descending order by the percentage of the total amount raised that was retained by the charitable organizations. Table 4 arranges the information according to geographical location of the charitable organizations.⁴

² Readers should be aware that the final figures and ratios may change when a campaign has been completed and all income and expenses are reported.

³ Information for an additional 18 telemarketing campaigns conducted during 2007 had not been submitted prior to the preparation of this report.

Table 5 presents, in descending order, the amount retained by each charity from all of its 2007 fundraising campaigns, expressed as a percentage of the total amount raised.

Table 6 aggregates the total amount that each professional fundraiser raised in its campaigns in 2007 and the total amount that was retained by its client charities. The table presents the percentage of funds retained by the charities in descending order, starting with the fundraiser whose client charities retained the largest percentage.

Table 7 contains contact information for the professional fundraisers, as provided to the Charities Bureau.

Uncollected pledges to a charity are not reported as part of the total amount raised, but are reported in a separate column in each table.⁵ Non-monetary contributions are not covered in this report.

⁴ The locations included in each of the eight geographical areas are described below the graph labeled Locations Of Charities Conducting 2007 Telemarketing Campaigns.

⁵ An uncollected pledge is a promised contribution that the charity has not received by the date of filing of a professional fundraiser's financial report with the Charities Bureau. The charity may never receive uncollected pledges. In some telemarketing campaigns, a donor may agree to pay a specified dollar amount over a period of months or even years. Reports of such campaigns will often show a large amount in the "Uncollected Pledges" column and small amounts in the "Net To Charity" and "% To Charity" columns. In each table, a $0.00 in the Uncollected Pledges column indicates that there were no uncollected pledges reported on the respective financial report or that there were no uncollected outstanding pledges by the date on which the fundraiser filed the report.

TIPS BEFORE GIVING

Individuals considering making a contribution via a telemarketing appeal should ask the caller if he/she is employed by a professional fundraiser and is being paid to solicit contributions. The law requires that telemarketers disclose this information. Also, the telemarketer should be asked:

- What programs are conducted by the charity?
- How much of the amount raised in the campaign will go the charity and how much will go the fundraiser?
- Has the fundraiser guaranteed that the charity will retain a specific amount?

Contributors should also remember that they always have the option of contributing directly to a charity.

Potential contributors should also review a charitable organization's annual reports as well as information received directly from the organization before donating. Annual reports for charities registered with the New York State Attorney General may be obtained from the organization or the Charities Bureau.⁶ Annual filings received by the Charities Bureau since November 15, 2006 are available on Attorney General Cuomo's Internet site at http://bartlett.oag.state.ny.us/Char_Forms/search_charities.jsp.

Potential contributors should also review Attorney General Cuomo's pamphlet, Tips on Charitable Giving, which is available on Attorney General Cuomo's Internet site at <http://www.oag.state.ny.us/bureaus/charities/pdfs/TIPS%20-%20Charitable%20Giving.pdf>

In addition to studying this report, representatives of charitable organizations that are contemplating engaging a telemarketer or other fundraising professional are urged to read Attorney General Cuomo's pamphlet, Tips For Charities Raising Funds in New York State - Questions to Ask Before and After Signing A Contract With A Fund Raising Professional, which is posted at http://www.oag.state.ny.us/bureaus/charities/pdfs/charities_raising_funds.pdf.

Finally, donors should keep in mind that amounts raised in a particular telemarketing campaign may represent only a small part of a charity's fundraising activity and, therefore, may not provide them with a complete picture of a charity's overall fundraising. Donors are urged to review the entire annual financial report of a charity when considering whether to make a contribution and should not rely solely on this report when making such decisions. Donors should also keep in mind that other factors may affect a charitable organization's fundraising costs, including that the charity may use telemarketing to achieve goals other than fundraising, such as marketing, advocacy or volunteer recruitment, and newer charities may incur higher fundraising costs in order to develop a donor base.
